MACPHERSON CONSTRUCTION & DESIGN AS FEATURED IN THE LEADING CUSTOM HOME BUILDERS

MACPHERSON CONSTRUCTION & DESIGN

The synergy of expert construction and design capabilities has distinguished MacPherson Construction & Design during its 23 years of operation. Specializing in the design and building of waterfront and large estate homes, the team of 25 construction and design professionals combines their experience and abilities to create homes that are comfortable and elegant while staying within budget. Developing a close working relationship with their clients over many months, MCD is able to listen to and interpret their desires and needs, paying attention to the smallest details. By using a classic material palette, MCD creates a home with construction quality and classic style that will stand the test of time. While the exterior style of a MacPherson-designed and built home may be contemporary, Craftsman or Mediterranean, open, functional and flowing interiors are a hallmark of every residence. "We design, draw, build and party in our houses," says principal Roger MacPherson, "so we intimately understand the need for functional spatial relationships between public and private areas of the home." The work of MacPherson Construction & Design has been published in numerous national magazines and regional newspapers and the company is proud to have designed and built several Street of Dreams show homes in Seattle.
