

A symphony of waterfalls and ponds cascade from above the circular drive at Stonecrest, first flowing to the front entrance, and then seemingly disappearing under the home to emerge again on the rear entertainment patio.

STONECREST

Street of Dreams home will capture visitors' hearts

ISSAQUAH — Old world charm, rustic textures, soaring ceilings and majestic exposed beams will immediately capture the heart of the most discriminating visitors to Stonecrest, part of the 2003 Street of Dreams here.

Situated on 3.64 acres, this richly detailed 5,650-square-foot single-level home offers rooms of grand dimension and design, and expansive territorial views in its own private gated community.

Uncompromising quality and detail flow throughout this four-bedroom, four-bath home, featuring a gourmet kitchen with nutmeg finishes and granite slab surfaces.

A generously appointed guest quarters with a fireplace awaits visitors. Versatile areas allow the resident to entertain a large group in style on the extensive patio, or meet in the ultimate media room. The home theatre room is

View these homes: The Seattle Street of Dreams opens today and continues through Aug. 17 from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. Ticket prices are $15 for adults (16 and older), $12 for senior citizens (65 and older) and children ages 6-15. Children 5 and younger are free. $3 off adult discount coupons are available at Marci Jewelry in Bellevue.

Getting there: Free parking available at the Issaquah High School parking lot, 700 2nd Ave. S.E., Issaquah. From I-90, take Exit 17 (Front Street) in Issaquah. Drive south on Front Street, turn left on Sunset Way and right on 2nd Avenue Southeast to Issaquah High School. A shuttle bus will take visitors to the show site. From Highway 18 drive north on Issaquah Hobart Road and turn right on 2nd Avenue Southeast to Issaquah High School.

Prices: The Stonecrest home is priced at $2.15 million.

Homebuilder: MacPherson Construction & Design, LLC

More information: Call Kimberly Lester at 425-427-9000 or Brenda Poskitt at 425-888-2110, or visit www.seattlestreetofdreams.com.

designed with a large black-out shade and motorized film screen that are triggered to drop simultaneously in front of the showcase window to give the start of a movie that theater effect.

A spacious study provides a retreat to solitude. Knotty alder eight-foot doors, five stone fireplaces, antique mosaics, tumbled travertine, black walnut floors, quartz floor, and gold-seeded glass are a sampling of the architectural highlights.

Technical state-of-the-art media systems, multi-camera security, and elaborate interior and exterior lighting systems are featured throughout. The home system is conveniently controlled from touch panels located all through the house.